

When we are
casting around
in distress,
can't scattered
words
in poems bring
order to our
scattered selves?
can't we who stir