

Tom.

Can we write
ten poems in an evening

that are any good
a few hours
later?

Or can something
happen that
nothing can explain,